(54) Title: FOOTWEAR WITH MULTIPLE LAYERS OF CUSHION

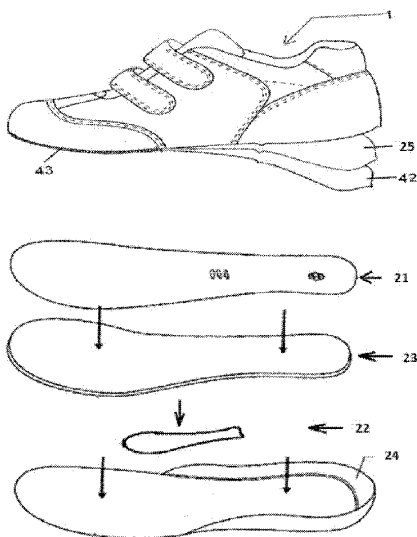

Figure. 1

(57) Abstract: The objective of this invention is to provide footwear that has excellent pressure or impact absorption from above, which is well received by the inner sole part and well sustained by the outer sole part, and provides bounce when used for physical activities, including: an upper body part covering the sides of the user's foot from the sole to above the instep; an inner sole part as the place for the user's foot to rest and bear the load given by the user; and an outer sole part as the lower outer part of a shoe that will directly contact the ground surface where the shoe is used.
