

ABSTRACT

5 The embodiments of the invention provide a communication method, network equipment, and terminal equipment to enhance communication efficiency. The communication method comprises: terminal equipment generates terminal capability information indicative of a terminal capability and/or a supportability of the terminal equipment with respect to a second parameter when the terminal equipment is 10 configured with a first parameter; and the terminal equipment transmits, to network equipment, the terminal capability information.

FIG. 2