

ABSTRACT OF THE INVENTION

A compound having the general structure shown in Formula I:

5

(I)

or pharmaceutically acceptable salts and/or solvates thereof are useful in treating diseases or conditions mediated by NK₁ receptors, for example 10 various physiological disorders, symptoms or diseases, including emesis, depression, anxiety and cough.