ABSTRACT

The present invention aims to provide a composition for inhibiting myofibrosis, which contains, as an active ingredient, a component that is safely ingestible for a long period of time; and a method of safely inhibiting myofibrosis. The present invention provides a composition for inhibiting myofibrosis containing quercetin or a glycoside thereof as an active ingredient.