ABSTRACT

An anti-allergic agent comprising β-palmitic acid as an active ingredient can be applied as an anti-allergic agent which improves an allergic disease and which does not have side effects.