ABSTRACT

The present invention relates to the use of an anti-HER2 antibody-drug conjugate (ADC) in preparing a drug for treating urothelial carcinoma. The drug is safe and effective for patients with urothelial carcinoma, especially locally advanced or metastatic urothelial carcinoma, and can effectively prolong the survival time of the patients.