

ABSTRACT

The present disclosure, belonging to the technical field of Internet, provides a method and apparatus for generating lyrics, a method and apparatus for displaying lyrics, and an electronic device and a storage medium. The method includes: acquiring lyrics of a target song; determining a character to be annotated in a plurality of characters of the lyrics; querying, based on a predetermined query rule and according to a word to which the character to be annotated belongs, a pronunciation of the character to be annotated in the word, and determining the pronunciation of the character to be annotated in the word as a pronunciation of the character to be annotated in the target song; and generating a first lyric file of the target song according to the plurality of characters and the corresponding pronunciation of the character to be annotated in the target song. In this way, in subsequent display of the lyrics, the pronunciations may be synchronously displayed, which ensures that a user is capable of correctly singing the pronunciation of each character in the target song. When the lyrics are being displayed on a terminal, the pronunciations may be provided over the corresponding character to be annotated, such that the pronunciations are clearly visible, and accuracy of displaying the lyrics is improved.

FIG. 2