

Abstract

The invention relates to alkylidene-tetrahydronaphthalene derivatives of general formula (I), process for their production, and their use as anti-inflammatory agents.