

ABSTRACT

An object of the present invention is to provide a compound represented by formula (I) which is highly specific to tau and 5 can image tau with satisfactory sensitivity, and also has high brain transition, low or non-recognized bone-seeking properties and low or undetected toxicity.

