INTEGRATED CIRCUIT MANUFACTURING

Abstract

The addition of ligands for chelating Group I and Group II ions to organic solvents used for photoresist removal and etched conductor cleaning enhances the shelf life of these solvents. Furthermore, mobile ion contamination of integrated circuits processed with ligands modified organic solvents is reduced.