ABSTRACT

CLOTHES DRYING RACK

A clothes drying rack is described comprising a support rod having a mounting means for mounting to a wall surface. A plurality of support members is rotatably mounted on the support rod. A hanging rod can be mounted on each of the support members and at least one of the hanging rods includes an extensible arm. The extensible arm is pivotable about the end of at least one of the hanging rods. The extensible arm is pivotable between an extended position where the extensible arm is an extension of the hanging rod and a folded position where the extensible arm is adjacent to the hanging rod.
