(54) Title: LIQUID CONTAINER

Fig. 1

(57) Abstract: A liquid container comprising a box (10) and a flexible bag (12) accommodated in the box and containing a liquid and having a first end (28) fixed at the box (10) and a second end (30) opposite to the first end (28) and biased in a direction away from the first end by an elastic member (32), characterized in that the box (10) has two parts (14, 16) that are telescopically movable relative to one another and are biased apart by the elastic member (32), and the bag (12) is held at one of these parts (16) with its first end (28) and at the other of these parts (14) with its second end (30).
