SECONDARY STRUCTURE STABILIZED NMDA RECEPTOR MODULATORS AND USES THEREOF

ABSTRACT

Disclosed are compounds having enhanced potency in the modulation of NMDA receptor activity. Such compounds are contemplated for use in the treatment of diseases and disorders such as learning, cognitive activities, and analgesia, particularly in alleviating and/or reducing neuropathic pain.

No fig.