

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Water turbidity prevention device for underwater foundation improvement apparatus

5

Provided is a device for preventing turbidity due to floating soil from water, the device provided in an underwater soil improving apparatus. For this purpose, the underwater foundation improvement apparatus includes a cover unit having a plurality of throughholes allowing the excavation rod to pass therethrough, and a cylindrical crease 10 body coupled to the cover unit, configured to be extensible in a top-bottom direction and surrounding the excavation rod.