

ABSTRACT

A biological sample holding container 41 includes: a container main body 42 having a bottom surface portion 44 having a placement region P for a biological sample S and a side surface portion 45 provided on the bottom surface portion 44 so as to surround the placement region P; and an annular holding member 43 insertable and removable inside the side surface portion 45. The holding member 43 holds a film F covering the biological sample S on the placement region P with the bottom surface portion 44 by being inserted inside the side surface portion 45 together with the film F.

FIG. 6