

ELECTRONIC APPARATUS AND PROGRAM

Abstract

An electronic device (1) may include: an acquisition section (3) configured to acquire captured image data of a hand of an operator; a presumption section (8) configured to presume, in accordance with the captured image data, skeleton data corresponding to the hand; and a determination section (9) configured to determine, in accordance with the skeleton data, a cursor position for operating the electronic device (1).

(FIG. 1)