(54) Title: BIOMETRIC TRANSACTION SYSTEM

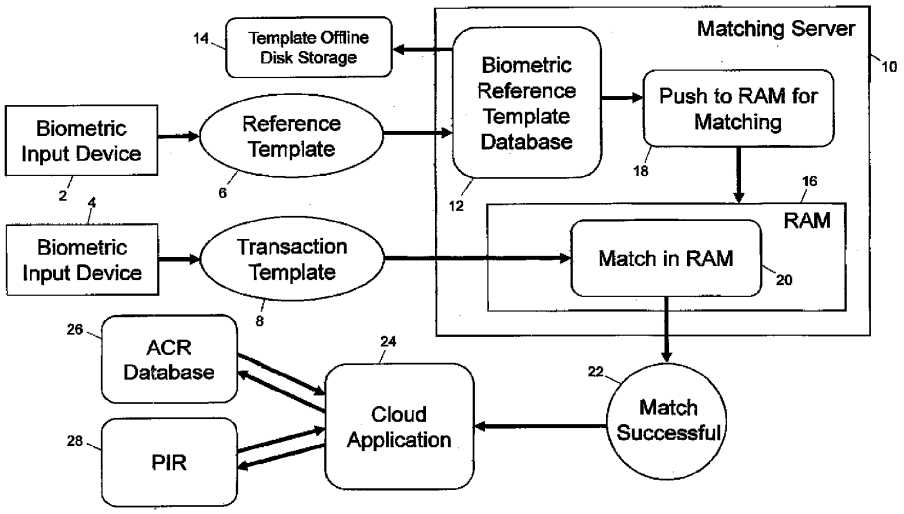

FIG. 1

(57) Abstract: The invention provides A system for enrolling a user for facilitation of transactions using biometric authentication, wherein the system comprises an application program configured to: receive a user attribute; create an anonymous client reference (ACR) associated with the user attribute; receive a biometric template, wherein the biometric template has been determined from an input of a biometric; and create an association between the biometric template and the ACR.
