(54) Title: RESOURCE-ALLOCATION PROCESSING SYSTEM AND APPROACH WITH RESOURCE POOLING

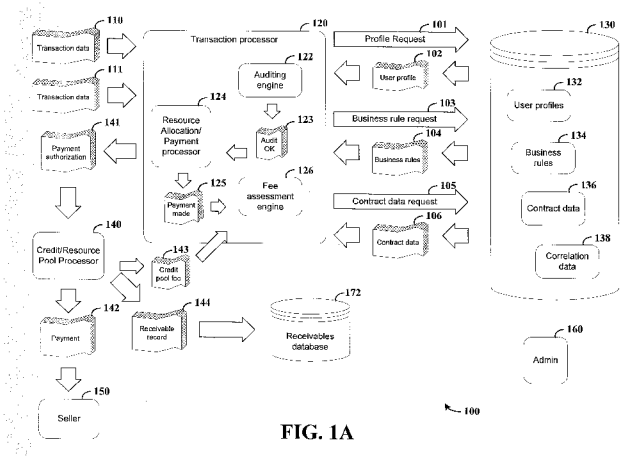

FIG. 1A

(57) Abstract: Transaction management for resource pools is facilitated. According to an example embodiment of the present invention, a transaction management approach involves the processing of transactions for different transaction parties involved with different transactions. Resources are allocated for the transactions using a pool of resources, with an associated fee assessed against one or more of the transaction parties for the allocated resource.
