(54) Title: SYSTEM AND PROCESS FOR NON-REAL-TIME VIDEO-BASED HUMAN COMPUTER INTERACTION

A simplified block diagram of the system and process structure

(57) Abstract: A system and a process for providing a video-based human computer interaction environment are disclosed. A modular framework defining an integrated presentation space is exported when the application is executed on a client. It includes an interactive video presentation interface, a pre-recorded video database and a database for recording the user's response videos. The user or administrator can manage the pre-recorded video database. The user can preview the recorded video response.
