

PORT SERVICES SUPPORT SYSTEM, PORT SERVICES SUPPORT METHOD, AND PORT SERVICES SUPPORT PROGRAM

ABSTRACT

A technique is provided that supports procedure related to port services and supports progress management of all the services.

Registration of basic information in accordance with an operation type of a port service is received, the basic information is linked to identification information; one or a plurality of operation flows corresponding to the operation type is stored, the identification information is acquired, and procedure processing in accordance with a status of the operation flow for a target specified by the identification information is executed.

[FIG. 1]