

METHOD, SYSTEM, AND APPARATUS FOR GENERATING VIDEO CONTENTABSTRACT

The present inventive subject matter is drawn to method, system, and apparatus for generating video content related to an audio media asset. In one aspect of this invention, a method for generating video content based on the audio media asset stored in a computer memory is presented, where at least one image and one video effect are applied to generate a plurality of video frames, and the plurality of video frames are combined with the audio media asset to produce video content.

FIG. 1