

Integrated Structural and Architectural Facade Level-by-Level Construction System

ABSTRACT

Provided is a level-by level construction methodology integrating architectural and structural work for use in the construction of a multi-level building utilizing a movable protection system (7) that can be mounted to a multi-level building during its construction.

Figure 1