The diagram shows a mobile phone with a registration form on its screen. The form consists of five stacked text input fields labeled 'First Name', 'Last Name', 'Mobile Number', 'Email', and 'SSN'. Below these fields are two checkboxes, each followed by a line of text: 'I accept the terms and conditions' and 'I agree to a one-time processing fee'. Under the checkboxes is a text link that says 'Scan Driver License to register'. At the bottom of the form is a large rectangular button labeled 'SUBMIT'. The phone is represented by a rounded rectangle with a small notch at the top and a circular home button at the bottom. Reference numerals are used to identify specific parts: 7100 points to the phone's outer frame, 7105 to the First Name field, 7110 to the Last Name field, 7115 to the Mobile Number field, 7120 to the Email field, 7125 to the SSN field, 7135 to the first checkbox, 7140 to the second checkbox, and 7130 to the SUBMIT button.
