

AbstractA Garment Carrier

- 5 A garment carrier for packaging of a shirt (30) is disclosed , the carrier comprising a collar protector (20) for receiving a shirt collar, and a cover (10). The collar protector (20) is movable between an open jaw position which facilitates placing the collar (30) within, and a closed position which creates a collar protecting region around the collar that is crush-resistant. The remaining portion
- 10 of the shirt received by the cover (10) can then be rolled around the closed collar protector to form a compact package.
