PHARMACEUTICAL COMPOSITION IN THE FORM OF A TABLET AND A METHOD FOR PRODUCING SAME

ABSTRACT

The invention relates to the field of medicine, the chemical-pharmaceutical industry, and, in particular, relates to agents exhibiting the virustropic and immunogenic activity. The pharmaceutical composition in the form of a tablet that exhibits the virustropic and immunogenic activity and is characterized in that it comprises glutaril histamine as the active substance, and lactose monohydrate, microcrystalline cellulose, sodium cross-carmellose, colloid silicon dioxide (Aerosil 300) and calcium stearate as adjuvants. 2 independent claims, 4 dependent claims, 3 examples.