

ABSTRACT

A wig whose wearing is less likely to be exposed is provided. There is provided a wig 2 comprising: a base fabric 4; front false hairs 8 implanted on a front surface 4b of the base fabric 4; a lining member 6 with a predetermined thickness, attached to a back surface 4c of the base fabric 4; and back false hairs 10 implanted in the lining member 6, wherein the front false hairs 8 are implanted at least in a region near an outer edge 4a that is at least a part of an outer periphery of the base fabric 4, the lining member 6 is disposed such that an outer end face 6a of the lining member 6 is positioned away from the outer edge 4a of the base fabric 4, and the back false hairs 10 extend outward from the outer edge 4a of the base fabric 4.