

ABSTRACT

A head ornament fastening member (10) that attaches a head ornament (20) to hairs (19) on a head. The head ornament fastening member comprises a first fastening means (13) that includes a base (11), and a plurality of stems (12) which protrude from a surface of the base (11) and are inserted into the hairs (19) from upside; and a second fastening means (15) that includes a plurality of comb-tooth-like portions (14) which intersect the plurality of stems (12) and are inserted into the hairs (19) from lateral direction. The plurality of stems (12) of the first fastening means (13) and the plurality of comb-tooth-like portions (14) of the second fastening means (15) intersect to each other in the hairs (19) from upside and lateral direction, thereby fastening the head ornament to the hairs.
