

Abstract

Method for producing L-amino acids using an alkaliphilic bacterium

Surprisingly, it has been found that alkaliphilic bacteria of the genus Corynebacterium are naturally suited to produce L-amino acids.