(54) Title: CHAIR WITH ADJUSTABLE TABLET

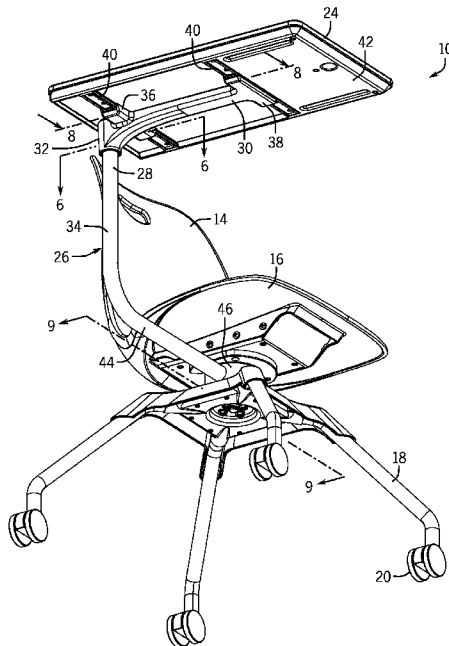

FIG. 2

(57) Abstract: A chair (10) including a writing tablet (24) that can be used with both a right handed and a left handed seat occupant. The chair includes a writing tablet (24) that is supported on a tablet arm (26). The tablet arm is pivotable beneath the seating element of the chair such that the tablet arm can be positioned on either the right side or left side of the user. The writing tablet is pivotally mounted to the tablet arm such that the writing tablet can pivot toward and away from the seat occupant. The writing tablet is further movably mounted to the tablet arm such that the writing tablet can move toward and away from the seat occupant. The seating element (16) of the chair is pivotally mounted to a support structure including chair legs and preferably caster wheels.
