ABSTRACT

ELECTRONIC INVOICING SYSTEM AND PROCESS

There is provided a process for providing a customer with an electronic invoice for a purchase, and an electronic invoicing system. Customer information data and purchase invoice data are used to generate electronic invoice data representing an electronic invoice and corresponding payment receipt for the transaction. The electronic invoice data is then transmitted from the device of the issuer to a device of the customer.

Figure 1