

ABSTRACT

Combustible gas, which is easy to be stored, transported and the like and can contribute to improving the quality of a finished state of an operation such as gas cutting, gas welding or brazing, contains ethylene at 38 v/v% or more and 45 v/v% or less and the remainder being hydrogen and unavoidable impurity.

5