ABSTRACT

A multi-link communication method performed by an access point (AP) includes determining a first message frame, in which the first message frame includes a change sequence field, and a value of the change sequence field is configured to indicate quiet information for a plurality of links; and sending the first message frame on at least one link of the plurality of links to at least one station (STA).

Fig. 2