(54) Title: METHOD OF PROTEIN PURIFICATION

(57) Abstract: The present invention provides methods for use in protein purification. The disclosed methods help avoid precipitation events and can be used to improve the performance and/or efficiency of protein purification protocols. The methods may be used to improve or prepare solutions for use in protein purification and/or protein extraction processes. One particular application of the disclosed method is in affinity chromatography where it may be applied to the preparation of load solutions.
