

THIS SHEET HAS BEEN REPLACED

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A composition for cleaning comprising a hydrocarbon solvent and an organic compound which can coordinate to metal ions, and a process for cleaning which comprises bringing an article for cleaning into contact with the composition for cleaning, and subsequently into contact with a solvent. Residue of a flux on a printed circuit board can effectively be removed by dissolving them without using an organic halogenated solvent which causes ozonosphere destruction.

This Sheet Has Been Replaced

1-16610-3