Lubricating Compositions for Reduced Low Temperature Valve Train Wear

ABSTRACT

The present disclosure relates to lubricating compositions including effective amounts of molybdenum from an oil-soluble molybdenum compound and a magnesium boost in the detergent system to achieve passing motor friction and valve train wear performance.

[No Available Figure]