E.P.E.C

(Essential Prayer Element Console)

Description

The concept for this design is to have an unmanned Indian prayer stall. For this concept to work, two different types of dispenser/vending machines are needed to be operation at the same time in any single location.

The two types of dispenser/vending will be a chilled drop-down type of dispenser/vending and the other a room temperature platform/tray type of dispenser/vending.

A chilled dispenser/vending machine for cut flowers/tied flower balls/garlands.

A 22-inch screen with 10 coil dispenser/vending machine will be required. The cut flowers/tied flower balls/garlands will be packed in an airtight plastic bag. The cut flowers/tied flower balls/garlands will be sold in packet form. The flowers will be replaced as the quality of will deteriorate every 3 days. This dispenser/vending machine will be a drop-down type.

The second dispenser/vending machine is to sell prayer items; hence the temperature of the dispenser/vending will be set in room temperature.

The prayer items will be packed in the items original packing such as boxes, bottles and plastic packs. Due to the nature of the items, a drop-down dispenser/vending will not be used but a dispenser/vending machine with a platform/tray to be used. The dispenser/vending machine. The dispenser/ vending machines used will be a smart retail automated machine.

The dispenser/vending machines will be at send alerts when stocks are low. These dispenser/vending machines will be cashless to coincide with current times. The dispenser/vending machine of both cut flowers/tied flower balls/garlands and prayer items are to be placed at any location at one time. Both dispenser/vending machines will coincide with each other.
