(54) Title: A REMOTE CONTROLLER

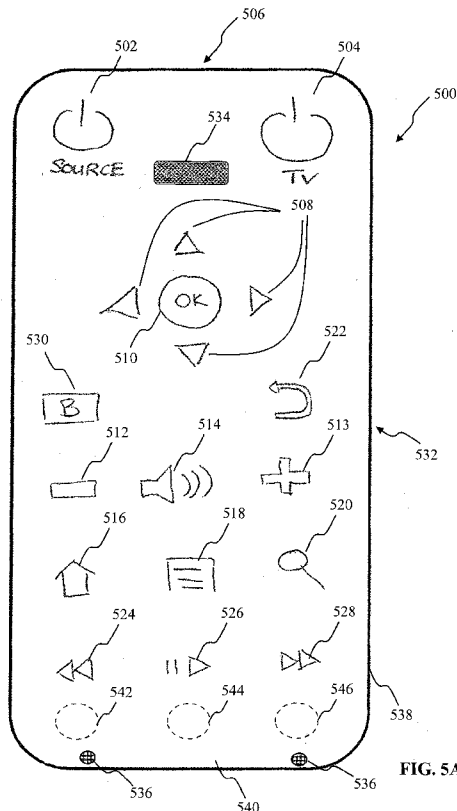

FIG. 5A

(57) Abstract: A remote controller for an interactive system for a system delivering content to a display screen is provided. The system includes a set top box coupled between a central content server and a display screen. The remote controller has basic controller functionalities, such as a plurality of keys for controlling various functions to be carried out by the set top box, and an infrared transmitter in the remote controller for carrying out infrared communication.
The remote controller includes wireless communications module for establishing a wireless connection between the remote controller and the set top box.
