

EYEWEAR, METHOD OF MANUFACTURE AND USE THEREOF

Abstract

Disclosed herein is an eyewear, optionally without nose supports/pads. The eyewear comprises a frame to receive a pair of lens; a pair of side supports adapted to pivot about a zygomatic region of a wearer's face; and a pair of temple cables arranged to contact ear portions of the wearer; wherein each of the temple cable is adjustable so as to provide a counter-weight to the frame.

Figure 1