

Process for the preparation of polycarbonate polyols by immortal polymerisation of cyclic carbonates

Abstract

The invention relates to a process for the preparation of polycarbonate polyols, characterised in that cyclic carbonates are polymerised in the presence of DMC catalysts and chain-transfer agents consisting of polyether carbonate polyols.