

Drawing

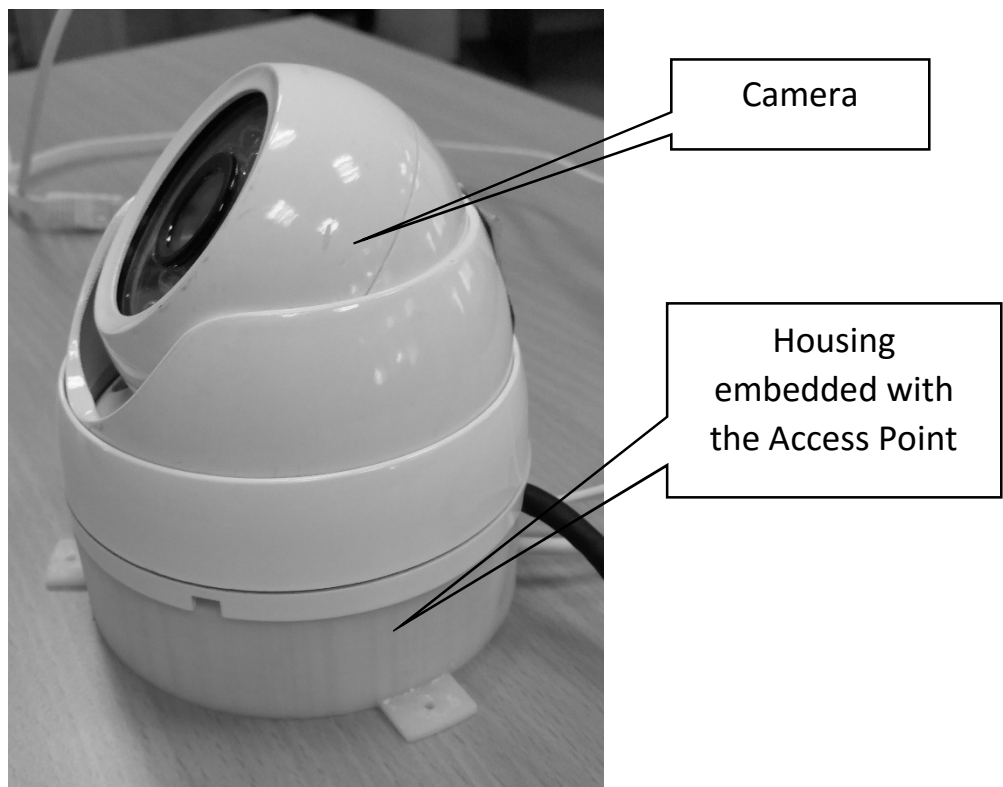

Prototype of CAMERAP

Below is an illustration of the housing/casing. It vary in size, very much dependent on the circumference of the camera base.

Not to Scale

Below shows how it's integrated to the camera.

Below shows the product undergoing an actual performance test. It was installed in our office and now became part of our office CCTV system.

