

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The present invention is publish a method and system for game account valuation, through the establishment of a game account trading platform, provide different game accounts for valuation, acquisition and consignment, seller users can choose a suitable plan according to their personal needs, and through the management of the game account trading platform, increase the credibility and security of transaction information, and also can reduce the impact on the value of game data.