(54) Title: SERVING PRESENTATION SYSTEM AND METHOD

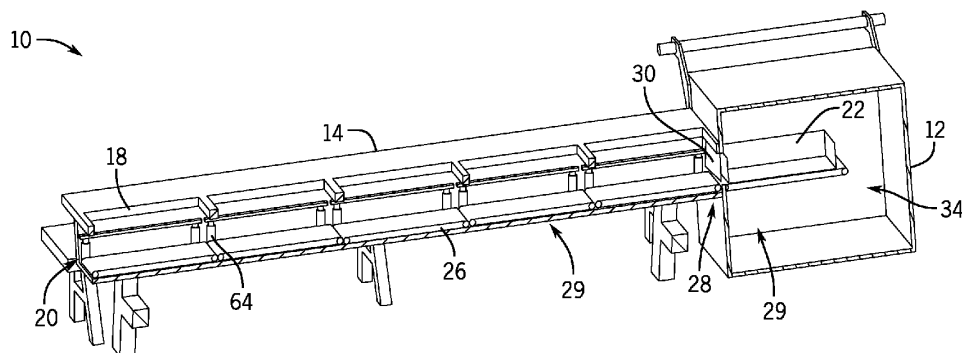

FIG. 2

(57) Abstract: In accordance with an embodiment, a serving presentation system includes: a mobile cart comprising a cart housing defining a cart cavity, a first port in the cart housing, and a cart conveyor system disposed within the cart cavity that may convey a serving from the cart cavity toward the first port. The serving presentation system also includes a table including a table housing defining a table cavity and a table surface with a table top port that may receive the serving therethrough, a second port in the table housing that may align and/or engage with the first port to define a passage between the cart cavity and the table cavity, a table conveyor system disposed within the table cavity that may convey the serving into the table cavity from the cart conveyor, and a lifter that may transition the serving from the table cavity through the table top port.
