

ABSTRACT OF DISCLOSURES

An escalator has a plurality of special footsteps and 5 connected between some two of plural usual footsteps endlessly connected each other and forms the wheelchair loading face by extending steps provided on the special footsteps in wheelchair transporting operations. And in the escalator, the special footsteps has the face extension step and forms the 10 wheelchair loading face by lifting the step, and the special footstep is connected to the upper side of the special footstep and has a step to be sloped, of which the lower edge part is sloped so as to face to the upper part of the face extension step.

15

20

25