Abstract

GROWTH INHIBITOR

The present invention relates to a method for producing an insulin-producing cell population or a pancreatic β cell population having the reduced number of Ki67-positive cells, comprising treating a population of endocrine progenitor cells or cells at a later stage of differentiation with an FGFR1 inhibitor.

[No suitable figure]