(54) Title: ANTENNA ARRAY MODULE

Fig. 4

(57) Abstract: The present invention relates to an antenna array module for a communication system on a cargo ship, comprising at least a first (11), a second (12) and a third (16) antenna element, each mounted on a ground plane and containing an antenna feed. The first (11) antenna element is tilted with respect to the second (12) antenna element. The first and the second antenna element are arranged to radiate mainly towards a first path along the cargo ship and the third (16) antenna element is arranged to radiate mainly towards a second path opposite to the first path.
