HANDLE AND CARTRIDGE SYSTEM FOR MEDICAL INTERVENTIONS

ABSTRACT

An apparatus for transferring mechanical energy in a handle to a cartridge to manipulate tissue or anatomical structures within the body of a human or animal subject for the purpose of treating diseases or disorders. The handle and cartridge contain safety interlocks.

Figure 1