ABSTRACT

DISHING REDUCING IN TUNGSTEN CHEMICAL MECHANICAL POLISHING

This invention pertains to slurries, methods and systems that can be used in chemical mechanical planarization (CMP) of tungsten containing semiconductor device. Additives are used to reduce the dishing on large and small feature sizes (large bond pad as well as fine line structures) without retarding the tungsten removal rate.

Figure 1