

25-11576

ABSTRACT

S-SEAL CONTAINING COMPOSITE SPRINGS

A spring is contained in an elastomeric body used as a seal in a tube interior. The spring, or multiple springs, if desired, are annularly arranged in the elastomeric body and are of a non-metallic material capable of being strongly bonded to the elastomeric body.