

162162

G00002

Abstract

Method for starting an application with the help of a mobile equipment (26), characterized by the following steps:

- a sequence comprising only numbers and/or "*" or "#" characters is introduced into said mobile equipment placed in the idle mode,
- 5 the introduction of the sequence is confirmed by pressing on the key for establishing a connection,
- a program in said mobile equipment and/or in an identification card in said mobile equipment launches said application when said sequence has a predefined particular syntax.