SYSTEMS AND METHODS FOR DEFORMATION CORRECTION OF A GAS TURBINE SHROUD

ABSTRACT

The present application provides a deformation correction system for a hot gas path surface of a turbine shroud. The deformation correction system may include a first die having a curved surface and a second die such that the hot gas path surface of the turbine shroud is positioned between the first die and the second die.

[Figure 4]